d. If your start date changes or is still to be confirmed, you will be informed in writing and the new date will supersede any dates shown here.

e. During your employment you agree to:

- Act in the capacity stated or in such other capacity as Well directs
- Commit the whole of your time, attention, and skill to Well both during normal business hours and during such additional hours as are necessary for the proper performance of your duties.
- Carry out the reasonable and lawful directions of Well.
- Faithfully and diligently perform your duties and exercise powers consistent with your position.
- Comply with all Well rules, regulations, policies, and procedures

f. For the purposes of the Data Protection Act 2018 and subject to the provisions of the Act, you consent to Well processing personal data, including Sensitive Data, of which you are the subject, details of which are specified in the Staff Privacy Notice which is available on the Company Intranet.

2. LOCATION

Your role is based at Well Pharmacy, WA10 2BD WA10 2BD but you may be required to work at other Well pharmacies within a reasonable geographical area.

3. CONDITIONS OF OFFER

Commencement of employment is subject to the following conditions:

- Sight of original documents confirming your right to work in the UK, and your continuing right to live and work in the UK
- Receipt of a satisfactory DBS certificate (if your role requires a DBS)
- Receipt of two satisfactory references - work or academic
- Proof of the necessary training certificates/accreditation to meet the requirements of the role. If you do not hold the relevant qualification/accreditation you may be offered a trainee role. This may be at a lower rate of pay.
- Investigation of any medical issues that may affect your ability to work in the role being offered and/or consideration of any reasonable adjustments required in the workplace. A subsequent medical examination may be required

Failure to meet any of the above conditions will mean that your employment will not commence with Well Pharmacy.

4. HOURS OF WORK

Your normal working hours will be 39 hours per week:

The standard working week shall be 39 hours for a full time equivalent.

The pattern of these hours may be subject to change at the discretion of your line manager, including the working of additional/alternative hours to suit the operational requirements of the Pharmacy/ Area/ Region.

You may be required to work such additional hours as are necessary including evenings, Saturdays, Sundays and Bank Holidays, whilst keeping within the Working Time Regulations 1998 within a seven day period.

5. PAYMENT

Your commencing rate of pay will be a basic hourly rate of 12.29 .

Supplementary allowances:

Any additional allowances are subject to normal deductions of tax, national insurance and are pensionable. Allowances do not form part of your contract of employment and are payable in line with the conditions stated in Appendix 2:

- Location Allowance: N/A Accuracy Checking Supplement: N/A

Your pay is subject to deductions mutually agreed or which Well is empowered by law to deduct. Any payments (including reimbursement of overpayments) due from you to us may be deducted from your salary and/or from any other money that we owe to you.

You will be paid every 4 weeks on a Thursday basic pay up to and including the Saturday of that week. The pay cycle can be subject to change. You will be notified of this in advance.

Payment is based on 2 approved timesheet weeks and 2 forecast (roster) weeks. Each timesheet week begins on a Sunday. You may not be paid for up to 6 weeks after your start date if you start during one of the 2 roster weeks.

Payment will be made by credit transfer into your bank or building society account.
You will not be paid until you have been set up on the payroll system - this is dependent on completion of all necessary preemployment checks and documentation.

Your Annual Salary Review normally takes place in April. If there is any change to this date, you will be advised accordingly. To qualify for the annual salary review you may be subject to a qualifying period of employment.

6. OVERTIME PAYMENT

Any additional hours worked require pre-authorisation by a manager for payment to be made. Payment of overtime is made at least 2 weeks in arrears in the next pay run following authorisation of the overtime.

Payment for overtime will be single time unless it is a Group1 Bank Holiday (see Well Benefits section).

7. HEALTH AUTHORITY ROTA AND EMERGENCY CALL OUT PAYMENTS

Colleagues who work an NHS Rota on a weekday will receive the normal overtime payment and on a Sunday a minimum of 4 hours single time will be payable.

8. AUTHORITY TO DEDUCT MONIES OWING FROM PAY

For the purpose of Part II of the Employment Rights Act 1996, it is hereby agreed that Well is authorised to deduct monies owed by the colleague to Well from the colleague's remuneration (including but not limited to any wages/salary, bonuses, commission and/or holiday pay) where, for example and without limitation, there has been: -

- An over-payment e.g., of wages/salary, bonus, commission, or expenses;
- Any form of outstanding advance or outstanding loan granted to the colleague by Well;
- Holiday that has been taken in excess of the colleague's accrued entitlement;
- Costs of repairing any damage or loss to Well's property caused by the colleague;
- Losses arising as a result of the colleague's breach of contract or negligence;
- Outstanding payments relating to a 'salary sacrifice' arrangement (e.g. childcare vouchers)

In the event of such sums being due on termination of employment with Well and if your final payment is insufficient to allow for the whole or any part of any such deductions to be made, the outstanding amount will remain due and owing and shall be repayable immediately.

9. PROBATIONARY PERIOD

Your employment is subject to a three (3) month probationary period starting on your continuous service date.

If at any time during this period there is good reason to determine that your employment is unsuitable, then your employment will be terminated.

The probationary period can be extended if appropriate, in which case you will be advised accordingly.

10. TRADE UNION / COLLECTIVE AGREEMENTS

Well believes that good and effective industrial relations depend upon representation of colleagues by responsible Unions with which agreements regulating employment can be negotiated. You are therefore encouraged to become a member of a Union, although you have a legal right not to join.

The Union with negotiating rights covering your employment is USDAW. Further details and joining instructions can be found on their website: www.usdaw.org.uk

11. SECONDARY OCCUPATIONS / RESTRICTIONS DURING EMPLOYMENT

You may work in a self-employed capacity or for anyone other than Well and its subsidiaries, provided that, (unless you have been given the express permission of your Line Manager),

- that employment is not with a competitor of Well and must not conflict with or be to the detriment of your employment with Well.
- Such secondary occupation must not contravene the Working Time Regulations 1998.

You are not permitted to sell or attempt to sell goods or services from or on the premises of Well and its subsidiaries, for your own benefit without the express permission of your line manager.

You may hold (directly or through nominees) investments listed on the Official List of London Stock Exchange pie or any recognised stock exchange as long as you do not hold more than 1 per cent of the issued shares or other securities of any class of any one company.

You must comply with every rule of law and every regulation of Well in relation to dealings in shares or other securities of Well or any Associate.

12. BUSINESS EXPENSES

You will be reimbursed for expenses incurred on Well business in accordance with Well's regulations in this matter, which broadly compensate for all reasonable out-of-pocket expenses necessarily incurred. Details can be found in the Expenses Policy which can be located on the Intranet.

13. NOTICE PERIODS

If you wish to terminate your employment you are required to give Well notice as set out in the table below depending on your length of service.

If Well wishes to terminate your employment, you are entitled to the period of notice set out in the table below depending on your length of service, unless your conduct is such as to entitle Well to dismiss you summarily in which case you lose your entitlement to notice.

Length of Service	Notice

During your probation period	1 Week
Less than 4 years' service	4 Weeks
More than 4 years' service	4 weeks, plus one additional week for every completed year of service up to a maximum of 12 weeks

Well reserves the right to terminate your employment without any notice or on notice less than that required. If it does so it will pay to you a sum equal to, but not more than, the basic salary for that part of the period of notice which Well has not given to you (less any appropriate tax and other statutory deductions).

You will not be entitled to this sum if Well does not elect to make a payment in lieu of notice.

Should Well exercise its discretion to terminate your employment and pay you in lieu of notice in this way, all the post termination obligations contained in this Statement will remain in full force and effect.

At any time during any period of notice of termination (whether given by Well or you), Well has the right to assign you no duties, reduced duties or alternative duties and is entitled to require you to act at the direction of Well. This includes the right to exclude you from its premises, and/or remove you from office as a director of Well and from any or all offices held in Well or in any other Associate (including if appropriate the office of trustee of any of the pension schemes of Well or the Associate).

If you have any unused holiday entitlement, Well may require you to take such unused holiday during any notice period/garden leave.

Well also has the right to prevent you from discussing its affairs with colleagues, agents, clients, members, suppliers and/or customers. If Well exercises its right under this clause, your entitlement to Salary and other contractual benefits will continue, subject always to the rules of any relevant scheme or policy relating to such benefits. For the avoidance of doubt, at all times during any period of notice of termination (whether given by you or by Well), you continue to be bound by the same obligations as were owed to Well prior to the commencement of the notice period.

14. TERMINATION OF EMPLOYMENT

Notwithstanding any other provisions of this Statement, in any of the following circumstances Well may terminate your employment immediately. In such event you shall not be entitled to any further payment from Well except such sums as have accrued due at that time.

The circumstances are if you:

- Commit any serious breach of the conditions in this Statement or are guilty of any gross misconduct or any wilful neglect in the discharge of your duties or any other fundamental breach of contract;
- Repeat or continue (after warning) any material breach of the terms of this Statement;
- Are guilty of any fraud, dishonesty or conduct tending to bring yourself, Well or any Associate into disrepute
- No longer meets the requirements of Well's recruitment policy provisions (which may include but are not limited to background / credit reference checks) applying from time to time
- Commit any act of bankruptcy, or take advantage of any statute for the time being in force offering relief for insolvent debtors;
- Are convicted of any criminal offence (other than minor offences under the Road Traffic Acts or the Road Safety Acts for which a fine or noncustodial penalty is imposed) which might reasonably be thought to affect adversely the performance of your duties; or
- Refuse (without reasonable cause) to accept the novation by Well or any Associate of this Statement, or an offer of employment on terms no less favourable to you than the terms of this Statement as a result of, for example, a reorganisation, amalgamation or reconstruction of Well.
- Agree to acquire not less than 90 per cent of the issued Equity Share Capital of Well.
- Are in breach of any of Well's codes of conduct.
- Become in any way disqualified from performing any of your duties hereunder in accordance with the law or any relevant professional code.
- Cease to be an Approved Person, where there is a requirement for you to be an Approved Person for the purposes of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 in order to perform your duties (but to the extent only that this Act applies to the employment and provided that, if it considers it appropriate to do so, Well shall first have exhausted the FSA's appeal procedure in challenging any such removal of Approved Person status).

Any delay by the Business in exercising such right of termination shall not constitute a waiver of it.

If Well believes that it may be entitled to terminate your employment it may (without prejudice to its right subsequently to terminate the Employment on the same or any other grounds) suspend you on full salary for so long as it may think fit.

On termination of employment or upon you having served notice of such termination you shall:

- At the request of Well resign from office as a director of Well or any Associate and all offices and/or positions as trustee held by you in Well or any Associate. Such resignation shall be without prejudice to any claims which you may have against Well or any Associate arising out of the termination of the Employment.
- Without payment transfer to Well or as Well may direct any qualifying shares, held directly by you or as nominee, provided by Well.
- Immediately deliver all materials within the scope of the Confidentiality clause and all keys, credit cards, cars and other property of or relating to the business of Well or of any Associate which may be in your possession or under your power or control.
- Irrevocably authorise Well to appoint any person in your name and on your behalf to sign any documents and do any things necessary or requisite to give effect to your obligations under this Clause.

15. CONFIDENTIALITY

You must not disclose in any unauthorised manner confidential information relating either to individuals or to the business of Well except in the proper performance of your duties or with the express written consent of Well. This applies during your employment and at any time (without limit) after the termination of your employment except in accordance with the Public Interest Disclosure Act 2018 and in compliance with an order of a competent court.

All books, notes, memoranda, research, reports, correspondence, records, lists of customers and/or suppliers and/or colleagues, correspondence, documents, computer and other discs, tapes, or other storage/memory/recording devices, data listings, codes, designs and drawings and other documents and material whatsoever (whether made or created by you or otherwise) relating to the business of Well or any Associate (and any copies of the same):

1. shall be and remain the property of Well or the relevant Associate; and
2. shall be handed over to Well or to the relevant Associate on demand and in any event on termination of employment.

You must not use computer hardware/software without proper authorisation or a license (including the copying of software outside the terms of the license).

You must not use your own hardware and/or software on Well business, whether on Well premises or not, unless approval has been given in writing by your line manager. If such permission is given, the ownership of all Well data remains with the Business for all times and must not be divulged to any unauthorised person either during or after your employment with Well.

On termination of your employment, all Well data must be removed from your computer and the disks or borrowed data returned to the Business.

Prior to loading data onto a Well computer, you must ensure that the data and disks are free from computer viruses, and any virus incident reported to the IT Service Desk (0333 010 0111, Option 1). Infringement of these rules may result in disciplinary action up to and including dismissal.

Pharmacists and their staff must protect and respect confidentiality. This duty extends to any information relating to an individual which pharmacists and staff acquire in the course of their professional duties and includes personal details and medication whether prescribed or purchased.

Further information is available via the General Pharmaceutical Councils' website: www.pharamcyregulation.org

16. HEALTH AND SAFETY

Whilst employed by Well you are responsible for your own health and safety and that of fellow colleagues or other people who may be affected by your actions at work.

You are expected to co-operate with Management and/or other colleagues in observing statutory duties as well as Well policies and procedures relating to health and safety.

If in the course of your employment you become aware of anything which you believe, may or does constitute a risk to health or safety, then you must immediately notify your line manager, or if you think that it is appropriate you must notify someone more senior, the Superintendent's Team or Retail Support.

Well reserves the right to require any colleague, whether absent through sickness or attending work, to undergo medical examinations at Well's expense.

17. SMOKING

Well operates a No Smoking Policy in all of its premises or vehicles. Please note that breach of the smoking rules will be regarded as an act of misconduct within the Disciplinary Procedure.

18. SECURITY

You are required to conform with the arrangements for security that apply at the premises and to the work in which you are employed.

19. CLOTHING

You will be issued with a standard uniform, which, as a condition of employment, must be worn at all times whilst attending work.

20. STATEMENTS

You shall not at any time knowingly:

- Make any untrue or misleading statement in relation to Well, any customer, supplier, member, agent, or Associate; or
- Make or give any statement, announcement or interview to the press, radio, television, or other form of media on any matter concerning Well and/or any Associate or any customer, supplier, agent or member of Well or any Associate, without prior written authority of a member of the Business's Executive.

21. TRAINING, QUALIFICATION AND ACCREDITATION

Continuation of your employment is dependent on you holding or completing, within the timeframes required, the necessary training, qualification and accreditation in line with the standards laid down by the General Pharmaceutical Council and Well.

To be fully qualified for Well roles, colleagues must hold the following recognised qualification.

If you are appointed as a trainer role, you will be provided with time and support to complete the required qualification within the timeframe specified. Any failure to complete the qualifications within the agreed timeframe or to maintain such qualifications may result in the termination of your employment.

Role	Mandatory Qualification	Time to complete
Well Healthcare Assistant	Medicines Counter Assistant (MCA) AND Medicines Counter Assistant Plus (MCA)+	9 months
Well Pharmacy Assistant	Medicines Counter Assistant Plus (MCA+) AND Dispensing Assistant (DA) NVQ2.	9 months
Well Pharmacy Technician	Dispensing Technician (DT) NVQ3 AND current registration with the General Pharmaceutical Council.	9 months
Well Accuracy Checker	Current AC accreditation for PA or PT	9 months

22. CODE OF BUSINESS CONDUCT

All Well colleagues must adhere to the provisions of the Code of Business Conduct throughout their employment. You can obtain a copy of this Code from your line manager.

The Code explains that all colleagues are expected to conduct themselves in a manner that is consistent with the Company's policies, procedures and Culture Code. In particular, colleagues should aim to develop ethical business relationships that are professional, honest and mutually beneficial.

- Business relationships: it is important that your personal interests do not improperly influence your business relationships or decisions; if you have a connection or relationship with a supplier or potential supplier of goods or services to Well, you must report this to your line manager in writing. You must ensure that you do this before you enter into any agreement with the supplier on the behalf of Well.
- Private arrangements: you must not enter into private arrangements with Companies suppliers or contractors. Where such goods or services are available to the public, you should purchase these at full commercial value.
- Gifts and hospitality: it is important that, before accepting or making any offer of gifts or hospitality, you ensure that the situation does not place any obligation on you or the supplier, and that your integrity is maintained at all times. You should not accept or give gifts or hospitality over the value of £30 unless you have sought express authorisation from your line manager. Gifts or hospitality worth in excess of £100 must be authorised by a member of the Executive.
- Bribery: bribery is where an individual accepts or offers any inducement, gift or advantage for personal or corporate gain. Bribery is strictly forbidden by Well. If you are approached to pay or receive a bribe you must report this immediately; no colleague will suffer any form of penalty or adverse consequences for refusing to pay or receive a bribe, even if such refusal results in a loss of business.

Please note that these guidelines are not intended to be comprehensive; if you have any further questions or if you believe that a supplier or potential supplier is attempting to obtain an unfair advantage, you should speak to your line manager.

It is important that your integrity, and that of Well, is never compromised; any breach of the Code of Business Conduct will be investigated and may result in disciplinary action, up to and including dismissal.

23. THE USE OF COMPUTERS, E-MAIL AND THE INTERNET

In order that Well may monitor the security of technology systems data, any actions undertaken by you using Well's or any Associate's or related technology systems may be electronically logged or otherwise recorded or monitored.

You should have no expectation of privacy in respect of any communications sent or received via Well's or any Associate's networks or related technology systems. By entering into a contract of employment with Well you acknowledge the giving of your consent for these activities.

24. WELL STANDARDS, POLICIES & PROCEDURES

In support of Well's commitment to maintaining effective colleague relations, established policies and procedures are in place and they apply to all colleagues, regardless of role or status. All current employment policies are available for inspection on the Well Intranet, on request from your line manager or alternatively the~ People Team.

Well expects all colleagues to fulfil all their obligations under their Principal Statement of Main Terms and Conditions of Employment and to comply with the standards of conduct and performance and the policies and procedures established by Well and explained to colleagues through training, induction, regulation and instruction.

25. DISCIPLINARY AND GRIEVANCE PROCEDURES

Well Pharmacy is committed to ensuring the fair and consistent treatment of all colleagues. If you have a concern, you should first raise this with your line manager. If you are unable to discuss the matter with your line manager, you should raise this with a more senior manager.

Procedures are in place to ensure that disciplinary and grievance matters are dealt within a prompt and reasonable manner and there is a clear process for appeal. All current employment policies and procedures are available on the Well Intranet, on request from your line manager or alternatively the People Team.

The Business reserves the right to suspend any colleague at any time, on full pay, from the performance of their duties and/or to exclude the colleague from Well's premises during any disciplinary procedure, including investigations, or for health and safety reasons.

The Disciplinary and Grievance Policies are non-contractual and do not form part of this Principal Statement.

HOLIDAYS

We want to be a great business. To be recognised as delivering a community pharmacy experience that is the best there is. We understand that our people need to feel proud, valued and confident to play a part in this, which is why we're committed to offering a benefits package that recognises our people's efforts.

Holiday Entitlement

The holiday year operates from 1st July – 30th June.

Statutory Holidays

Well recognises the following statutory holidays:

Group 1 Bank Holidays

1st January
2nd January (Scotland only)
Easter Monday
(England, Wales and Northern Ireland only)
25th December (Christmas Day) 26th December (Boxing Day)

Payment for working Group 1 bank holidays will be double time

Group 2 Bank Holidays

Good Friday
Early May Bank Holiday
Spring Bank Holiday
Summer Bank Holiday

Payment for working Group 2 bank holidays will be single time

Full time colleagues (working 39 hours) are allocated 7.8 hours for each bank holiday making a total of 62.5 hours bank holiday entitlement.

In a holiday year where more or fewer than the 8 recognised holidays fall the bank holiday entitlement is adjusted accordingly.

Total Annual Holiday Entitlement

Well combines the bank holiday entitlement with individual holiday entitlement to determine the total annual holiday entitlement for the year (rounded to the nearest half hour).

The total annual holiday entitlements for full time employees (39 hours per week) are:

Length of Service	Holiday Entitlement (excluding bank holidays)	Holiday Entitlement (including bank holidays - 8)
Up to 5 years' service	179.5 hours	242 hours
After 5 years' service	195 hours	257.5 hours

Holiday entitlement calculation for part time and non-standard contracts

Colleagues contracted to work more or less than 39 hours per week will be entitled to a pro-rated entitlement of annual holidays and statutory holidays. This will be shown on the system as a combined total number of holiday hours available for the leave year.

Where a statutory holiday falls on a normal working day, the time off will be recorded as a holiday and the contractual hours for that day will be deducted from the remaining holiday entitlement.

If you are required to work on a recognised statutory holiday you should ask your manager to remove the holiday hours booked on the system and these hours will be added back into your overall holiday entitlement to be used at a later date.

Booking holiday

All holidays must be booked in accordance with the Annual Leave Policy. Further details can be found on the intranet. When you book holiday the number of hours you normally work that day (as defined in your working pattern) is deducted from your entitlement.

Year of joining and leaving

Holidays including statutory holidays for all colleagues joining or leaving the company will be pro-rated to the number of days worked as a proportion of the full year. Holidays may be taken in the period 1st July to 3dh June by agreement with your Manager, on a current year holiday entitlement basis. If, on termination of employment, you have exceeded the accrued holiday entitlement, the salary equivalent to the excess will be deducted from final monies.

SICKNESS

At Well we understand that people get sick, to support all colleagues who are unable to attend work due to sickness absence we provide a Well sickness benefit that runs alongside Statutory Sick Pay (SSP) and is a benefit that acts as a top-up to SSP. After a service qualification of 26 weeks, you will be eligible for Well sickness benefit as shown:

Sickness benefits

After 26 weeks' service	After 1 years' service	After 2 years' service	After 3 years' service	After 4 years' service	After 5 years' service
1x weekly contracted hours	2 x weekly contracted hours	4 x weekly contracted hours	6 x weekly contracted hours	8 x weekly contracted hours	12 x weekly contracted hours

Well sickness benefit means you are paid in full if you are too ill to work - subject to the balance of your benefit. Your balance is determined by your benefit on the day your absence begins less any benefit paid in the last 12 months.

Waiting Days

Well sickness benefit is subject to a 3-day waiting period. This means your sickness benefit will commence on the 4th working day you are absent. Your SSP entitlement is not affected. In order to be eligible for sickness benefit you must supply Well with medical certificates covering any period of sickness or incapacity exceeding seven days (including weekends).

You must also, subject to the provisions of the Access to Medical Reports Act 1988, agree to undergo at Well's request and expense, at any time during your employment, a medical examination by your own general or other medical practitioner and/or by an independent medical practitioner nominated by Well, and to authorise such practitioner to disclose to and discuss with Well the results of any such medical examination.

If your absence is as a result of actionable negligence by a third party in respect of which damages are recoverable, then you must:

- Notify Well immediately of all the relevant circumstances and of any claim, compromise, settlement or judgment made or awarded in connection with it;
- Give Well such information concerning the above matters as Well may reasonably require; and
- If Well so requires, refund to Well any amount received by you from any such third party, provided that the refund shall be no more than the amount which you have recovered in respect of remuneration.

For the avoidance of doubt, the provisions of this clause will not prejudice or limit in any way Well's right to terminate your employment.

PENSION

To help people save more for their retirement, all employers – including Well, are required by law to provide a workplace pension scheme and pay money into it. This is known as 'automatic enrolment'.

- Well will comply with any employer auto enrolment pension duties it may have in respect of you in accordance with part 1 of the Pensions Act 2008
- Well is currently using the Well Auto-enrolment pension scheme in respect of its duties under the Pensions Act 2008. Membership of the scheme is strictly subject to the terms and conditions of the pension scheme, and Well reserves the right to vary or discontinue any scheme in place from time to time but will in such circumstances continue to comply with its duties under the Pensions Act 2008
- Well shall be entitled to deduct from your salary any amounts payable by you as member contributions to the pension scheme
- Well operates the Well Auto- enrolment pension scheme which is available to you to join through a tax efficient salary sacrifice scheme. Under this scheme you agree to sacrifice part of your salary in return for a contribution to the Well Auto-enrolment pension scheme by Well on your behalf.

Eligibility

Everyone who works for Well will be automatically enrolled in to our Well Pension Scheme if you:

- earn more than £10,000 per year before tax (this is based on your contracted hours and doesn't include any overtime)
- are aged 22 or above (if you turn 22 when working for Well, you'll be automatically enrolled in the scheme)

Postponement Period

We will assess you for auto enrolment in the fourth pay reference period after you start with Well. If in this pay period or subsequent pay periods you meet the eligibility/automatic enrolment criteria you will be auto enrolled into our pension scheme.
If you would like to join the Well Pension Scheme straight away, you can request to do so on our internal intranet ('The Hub').

Salary Sacrifice

The Auto Enrolment Scheme is a Salary Sacrifice Scheme. This means that you exchange part of your salary for a regular pension contribution, and the relevant deductions will be taken from your gross pay (before tax and NI contributions). If you do not wish to make contributions on this basis please complete the 'Salary Sacrifice Opt-Out' form on The Hub.

If you are automatically enrolled into the pension both you and Well will pay contributions into the scheme every pay period, and the government will also contribute through tax relief.

If you are not automatically enrolled because you do not meet the eligibility criteria for auto enrolment, you will not become a member of the pension scheme automatically, but as long as you are aged at least 16 and under 75, you can still request to join by completing the 'Membership Request Form' on The Hub.

Further information on auto enrolment can be found on our company intranet when you join the company.

APPENDIX

Appendix 1 The Use of Computers, E-Mail and the Internet in Well

You must use all Well systems appropriately. The systems provided to you are supplied on the condition that you will read the following policy and observe them at all times.

This policy forms part of your terms and conditions of employment. From time to time, we may need to update this policy. We will notify you in advance of any changes to the policy.

Failure to observe may result in disciplinary action, up to and including dismissal.

Access

Access to and use of the Companies' information systems, e.g. the Internet, e-mail, intranet or other applications available via your pc are primarily for business use. Well, however, permits occasional and reasonable amount of personal use of the facilities. Personal use must not interfere with or disrupt your work activities or those of colleagues. It should be confined to work breaks or to time outside normal working hours.

Using our systems and computers

You must not use the Companies' computer facilities for any unlawful purpose. This includes engagement in or incitement of any criminal activity and infringement of copyright or other intellectual property rights of third parties. It also includes the distribution of defamatory or fraudulent material or any messages which may cause t1arassment or distress, or which are contrary to the Companies' Code of Business Conduct and other policies, such as Dignity at Work, Equal Opportunities etc.

This list is not exhaustive: the rule covers all unlawful purposes.

You must not use these facilities for creating, accessing or transmission of inappropriate, potentially offensive or criminal material.

This includes:

- Indecent or pornographic messages or pictures
- Offensive messages or pictures which may be considered as sexually or racially harassing, or which violate or degrade the dignity of others
- Discriminatory or intimidating messages or pictures concerning gender, race, ethnic origin, disability, age, sexual orientation or religious belief
- Any material which incites or promotes criminal or terrorist activity
- Chain letters
- Colleagues must not engage in excessive use of e-mail for purposes other than those of Well. Responsibility for the content of e-mail and the use of Internet and Intranet facilities rests with the author, forwarder or user. You must ensure that the integrity of your systems and passwords are maintained.

Confidentiality

All colleagues with access to the Internet are responsible for ensuring that they do not disclose confidential information, including data relating to individuals, without proper authorisation. The rules relating to the management of data relating to individuals is explained in the Data Protection Policy.

Protection against Viruses

You must not download, duplicate or transmit any computer hacking tools, e.g. Trojan Horse software, nor any virus software or toolkits, nor password/encryption cracking tools unless explicitly authorised in advance by the appropriate IT manager.

Unauthorised software (software, including screensavers, not approved by Well) must not be loaded on to Business computers.

Unusual events occurring with a computer can be evidence that a virus is present. If you have any suspicion that a computer has been infected with a virus, this must be reported to either your manager (where the computer is standalone), or to the IT Service Desk if it is connected to a network.

Copyright

All colleagues with access to the Internet are responsible for ensuring that they do not disclose confidential information, including data relating to individuals, without proper authorisation. The rules relating to the management of data relating to individuals is explained in the Data Protection Policy.

Software must be used only within the terms of the licence that applies to it. Copies made outside the terms of the licence are an unlawful breach of copyright. You must not transmit or download any information protected by copyright.

Ownership of all Business data remains with Well for all time.

Security of Equipment

Reasonable precautions must be taken to protect computer equipment from theft or damage. For example, laptops must be secured to immovable furniture and/or locked away if unattended. If they are being transported, they should not be left in public view, or in vehicles overnight.

Monitoring arrangements to protect Well and its colleagues

All Internet and e-mail use is electronically logged and stored for monitoring purposes. This is in order that Well may establish facts where the content of a communication is disputed, to investigate and detect usage in breach of Well rules, for training purposes, for preventing and detecting crime and to ensure the effective operation of the system:

Well may process the data stored concerning usage. Such processing may include automatic processing. Records are kept for twelve months.

This does not mean that we will read all your emails; however, if an anomaly or concern is identified in respect of your user details, we will investigate the matter thoroughly.

If you receive or intercept any inappropriate material, or if you are suspicious or unsure about any material, you must contact your IT department or forward it to the IT Security Management mailbox at itsupport@well.co.uk
